hello,

WE ARE JOLISSA + DANIEL

We are thrilled that you are reading our profile book. We've been married for 7 years now and can't wait to share our lives with our first, beautiful, precious baby that we can explore the world with. It has been a real struggle not being able to grow our family due to infertility issues, but we are so excited to continue our journey through adoption.

My family is the most important thing in my life!

We are pretty close and love getting together to play all sorts of games. It has been a real struggle not being able to grow my family the traditional route due to my infertility issues, but I'm so excited to continue our journey through adoption.

our passions and adventures

AND ALL OF THE THINGS MAKE OUR LIFE UNIQUELY JOYFUL AND EXCITING.

Seeing the world is a huge part of our lives. We've had the incredible experience of staying in a castle in Germany, feeling the magic in Disney World, and breathing in the fresh mountain air in Colorado. A truly unforgettable journey was walking among the majestic California redwoods, feeling both humbled and inspired by nature's wonder, and we have so many plans to come.

Our adventures are not just about places, but also about the unique experiences they offer. We've kayaked through a bioluminescence beach, an experience that felt like paddling across a starry night. Our love for nature extends to our home, where we grow our own food in a garden we built with love and care. We keep chickens too, which means fresh eggs every morning! We've even swam with manta rays. Next on our list is stargazing at Big Bend, to marvel at the wonders of the universe.

Our life is filled with whimsy and fun, deeply influenced by our love for fantasy and sci-fi!

Our small wedding was held on the bridge in Harry Potter world. We regularly play Dungeons & Dragons, and we binge-watch sci-fi classics like Lord of the Rings and Star Wars. We also enjoy attending renaissance festivals and other outdoor festivals, celebrating creativity, history, and the joy of community.

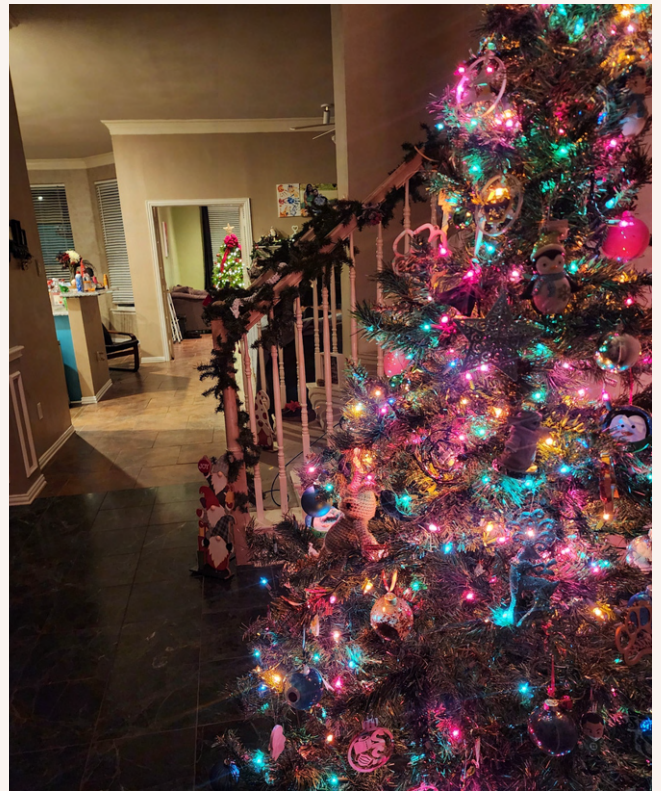

our home

We live in Arlington in a warm and welcoming five bedroom home with plenty of room for a growing family. We have lived here for the past 3 years and we love to entertain and host, especially around the holidays. We love to decorate for all the holidays but we go crazy for Halloween and Christmas. We live in a terrific neighborhood right across the street from one of the biggest parks in Arlington with awesome hiking trails. We are also minutes away from Six Flags, Hurricane Harbor, and Rangers Stadium.

Our family also includes two very loving and goofy boxers. These well-behaved dogs are a bundle of joy, always ready to play and offer comforting cuddles. They are an integral part of our life, bringing laughter, companionship, and an extra dose of love to our home. We believe they will be wonderful furry siblings to a child, offering unconditional love and teaching the values of kindness and responsibility.

Our home is more than just a physical space;

It's a haven of love, learning, and laughter, ready to welcome a new family member into its loving embrace.

We have been blessed with an incredible group of people.

Whether it's the exciting Easter egg hunts, spectacular fireworks on the 4th of July, dressing up for Halloween, the warmth of Thanksgiving, the magic of Christmas, or celebrating birthdays, each moment is a celebration of our bonds and shared joy. As we often say, "Blood of the covenant is thicker than water of the womb." This belief is at the core of our relationships - it's not just about biological ties but the deeper connections we've nurtured with those who have stood by us, shared in our dreams, and who will be an integral part of our child's life. Together, we are ready to welcome a new member to our family, enriching it further with new experiences and happiness.

OUR FRIENDS AND FAMILY ARE THE VERY HEART OF OUR WORLD.

Thank you for your time and consideration!

In all of our experiences, we see not just adventures, but knowledge and memories we can't wait to share with a child! Our lives are about embracing the world, and we're excited about the opportunity to offer a child a life filled with love, learning, exploration, and, of course, a bit of magic. ✨
